

The predicted root is packet-window stable

The isolation corridor changes but remains open

Contour renormalization absorbs packet changes

Shifted solves remain converged

