

The physical target is a complex outer resonance

A positive return target is only asymptotic

The static packet matrix approaches but misses the target

Exact physical eigenmode closure

